Required New Account Forms

Refer to the tables below to determine if Freedom Advisor's digital "Open New Account" is available for the type of account at your custodian. Opening the account on our platform is the fastest way and eliminates errors and delays by using a guided workflow that auto-fills client information for existing clients and prospects.

- If the account type is available in "Open New Account," then it must be opened on the platform.
    - You can still choose to have clients sign the completed documents manually.
- For account types not available in "Open New Account," fill in the forms and either submit via the DocuSign link or a manual signature. We have provided links below to a consolidated file that contains all required documents per account type.

Account types available for digital "Open New Account"[1]

Enter your client's information for these account types directly in Freedom Advisors here. This enables the creation of a new account and its funding. Note that an Investment Plan must be created in the platform and signed by the client(s) before the account can be invested.
